Dear Sir / Madam:

We have received your interlibrary loan request for "The Blackwelder and allied families of North Carolina and Illinois" by Deward Charles Williams, 1963. This item is a spiral-bound mimeographed copy of various typewritten texts. If the catalogue record is correct, these sections consist of 165, 28 ,49, 8, 8a-8b, 31, 39, 49, 160 p. respectively, for a total of 524 pages.

I am sorry, but books in this department do not circulate. We can supply a copy in the form of 35mm microfilm. The estimated cost for a microfilm copy would be $84.25. (Master negative, which we will retain: 265 frames x $.25 = 66.25; positive copy $8.00; reels/boxes: $2.00; s&h: $8.00.) If you or your patron would like to have this work microfilmed, please let me know, but do not enclose payment with your request. An invoice for the exact amount due will be furnished, and the microfilm will be mailed upon receipt of the (required) pre-payment.

Sincerely,

John Blackwelder & Elisabetha Maushardt

The immigrant ancestor of most of the Blackwelder families in America was John Blackwelder, who was born Johannes Schwarzwalder on 29 January 1684 in Monchweiler, Wurttemberg, Germany. His parents were Jacobus Schwarzwalder and Margaretha -----. Monchweiler was in Germany's Schwarzwald (or Black Forest). On 27 November 1708, in Durrn (a town in Wurttemberg, about 60 miles north-northeast of Monchweiler), Johannes Schwarzwalder (a wheelwright) married Elisabetha Maushardt. Elisabetha, a daughter of Andreas Maushardt and Barbara -----, was born in 1688 (possibly in Lienzingen, a few miles to the east of Durrn).

Johannes and Elisabetha had at least six children, three of whom survived infancy: Johann Adam (born 30 September 1719), Gottlieb (born 8 November 1722), and Anna Margaretha (born 29 Oct 1725). The Schwarzwalder family were members of the Evangelical Lutheran Church at Durrn. Elisabetha died in Durrn on 27 March 1734. Johannes remarried there on 7 May 1737 to Christina, widow of Johannes Keller.

Not longer after his marriage to Christina, they applied to leave Germany for America and, on 29 March 1738, were granted a permit to do so. They sailed in the ship Friendship, which arrived in Philadelphia on 20 September 1738. Not long after arriving, they anglicized the surname from Schwarzwalder to Blackwelder. According to the declaration of importation found in Brunswick County, Virginia Order Book 3, p. 27, dated 3 April 1746, "John [Johannes] Blackwelder made oath that he imported himself, his sons, John [Johann Adam] and Caleb [Gottlieb] and daughters Elisabeth and Margaret [Anna Margaretha], and his sister Catherine Blackwelder directly from the Marquisite of Durlach of Germany into the Province of Pennsylvania . . ." There was no mention of his wife Christina and it is not known if she made the trip to America or if she died after their arrival. No record of a daughter Elisabetha has been found in the Durrn church records nor is anything else known about her.

On 25 August 1742, in Williams Township, Bucks County (the part of which became Northampton County in 1752), a Johannes Schwarzwalder married Elizabeth Bernhardt, daughter of William Bernhardt. It is not known whether this Johannes Schwarzwalder is of the same family that immigrated to Pennsylvania in 1738. NEW

The Blackwelder family next appeared in Brunswick County, Virginia in 1744. A patent of land granted to Martin Phifer dated 16 June 1744 described the land as "adjoining Blackwelders". Martin Phifer (son of Caspar Pfeiffer) married to John Blackwelder's daughter Margaret on 1 October 1745. According to Patent Book 25, pp. 159-160, John Blackwelder was granted 290 acres of land on 12 January 1747 "in the County of Lunenburg on both sides of Horsepen Branch of Allen's Creek". (Lunenburg County was formed from Brunswick County in 1746. The part of that county in which the Blackwelders lived was subsequently divided into present-day Mecklenburg County, Virginia in 1764.) John Blackwelder, Caleb Blackwelder, and Martin Phifer appeared in tax lists of Lunenburg County from 1748 to 1752. (John Adam Blackwelder's name did not appear in these tax lists.)

On 7 September 1756 (see Lunenburg County, Virginia Deed Book 4, p. 313), John Blackwelder conveyed his 290 acres of land on Horsepen Branch of Allen's Creek to Caleb Blackwelder. The deed was signed by John and Margaret M. Blackwelder. The date of John's marriage to Margaret M.is not known. Nor is the date of John's death. There was a marriage of a Margaret Blackwelder in Cumberland County, Virginia on 26 November 1763 to Thomas Wilks, so presumably John died in southern Virginia between 1756 and 1763.

Margaret (Blackwelder) Phifer and her husband Martin moved from Lunenberg County, Virginia to Anson (now Cabarrus) County, North Carolina around 1757. Martin Phifer was living on Cold Water Creek as early as 1758. On 29 October 1760, he was granted 278 acres of land on Cold Water Creek (see Mecklenburg County, North Carolina Deed Book 1, p. 152). (Meckleburg County was formed in 1762 from Anson County. Then, in 1792, Cabarrus County was formed from the part of Mecklenburg County where Martin Phifer lived.) Martin died in 1791; his wife Margaret in 1803. They had at least four children.

Caleb Blackwelder deeded the land received from his father to William Philps on 19 January 1760 (see Lunenburg County, Virginia Fiduciary Book 4, p. 41). He then moved with his wife Betsey Phifer to Anson County, North Carolina around 1760. On 24 June 1762, Caleb and his brother John Adam both received grants of land in newly-formed Mecklenburg County, North Carolina.

Caleb and his family belonged to the Dutch Buffalo Creek Lutheran Church, formed in 1745. This was later known as St. John's Lutheran Church, now located near Mount Pleasant in Cabarrus County, a few miles east of Concord. Caleb died 1794. He and his wife Betsey are buried at St. John's Lutheran Church. They had at least eight children. Most of the Blackwelders of Cabarrus County are descended from Caleb Blackwelder and Betsey Phifer.

Not much is known about John Adam Blackwelder. He married Catherine ----- (probably in Virginia in the 1740s). They had sons John and Charles, and possibly a son Christian, as well as a daughter Mary. (I am still seeking proof that Mary was a daughter of John Adam.) Mary was married around 1769 in Mecklenburg (now Cabarrus) County, North Carolina to John Shaver. (These are my 4th-great-grandparents and their descendants can be found on my John Shaver website.) On 26 September 1794, John Adam Blackwelder and his wife Catherine deeded the 156 acres of land on Little Cold Water Creek (which he was granted in 1762) to their son Charles. The date of John Adam's death is not known, but letters of administration were ordered in Cabarrus County for the estate of his wife Catherine on 16 April 1805. Sale of the property was held in July 1805.

Most of the Blackwelder families of the United States are believed to be descended from John Blackwelder and Elisabetha Maushardt. This web site is intended to be a compendium of the research done on them and their descendants. A lot has been published on this family in various historical books, family histories, and the Internet, much of it accurate, some not so accurate. As is often the case with family histories, once something is in print, it often is considered to be "gospel". It is my hope that this web site will facilitate a critical examination and discussion of the facts, legends, and myths surrounding this Blackwelder family and to allow us Blackwelder researchers and descendants to learn more about our origins and our relatives' contributions to early America. The best way to separate fact from fiction and to resolve conflicting information is to go back to the primary sources (see Understanding Sources, Citations, Documentation and Evaluating Evidence In Genealogy, by Richard A. Pence). These include records of marriages, births, deaths, and burials, census listings, Bible records, tax lists, probate and land records, etc. The information in the descendant listings on this web site will include documentation of the primary sources as much as possible, and transcriptions of many of those sources will be presented in links below. This is a working document and not necessarily definitive, since much of it is based upon information found on the Internet or in published secondary sources. It will be modified and (hopefully) improved as more researchers provide input and, most importantly, evidence. (One final note: Genealogy is a hobby of mine - one that I do in my spare time, balancing the demands of a family and a full-time career. I will do my best to respond to correspondence promptly and keep this web site current.)

Most of the Blackwelder descendants in North Carolina still live in and around Cabarrus, Rowan, and Iredell Counties. For a detail map of the counties and townships in this area, click the following image :

If you would like to comment on any information contained within, or wish to correspond with me about this family, please send me an e-mail message at: marslan@nc.rr.com. NEW Additions and corrections are greatly appreciated. I am especially interested in receiving information obtained from primary sources (census listings, Bibles, cemeteries, vital records, probate and land records, etc.) and photographs and digital images relating to the Blackwelder family so that I can incorporate them into this page. Also, I would like to provide links to other pages on the Internet that deal with Blackwelder genealogy.

Key To Descendant Listing

This is a listing of known descendants. A variety of abbreviations, numbering systems, and syntaxes are used. The purpose of this key is to explain these to the reader and to draw attention to the different types of information that are shown.

For each descendant, the following information may appear:

- a unique identification number
- full name
- gender (male, female, ?), whether a multiple birth (twin, triplet, etc.), whether adopted
- date & place of birth (including sources)
- date & place of death (including sources)
- date & place of marriage (including sources)
- full name of spouse
- date & place of spouse's birth (including sources)
- date & place of spouse's death (including sources)
- full names of spouse's parents

Here is an example of a descendant entry:

The following event abbreviations are used: B,b= birth; D,d= death; M,m= marriage.

Females are referred to by their maiden surnames.

Nicknames are shown where they differ substantially from the given names. The nickname is shown in quotation marks. For example, Susan Elizabeth Koontz's nickname is "Sudie". Common nicknames such as Jim for James, Bill for William, and Betty for Elizabeth are not shown.

Some of the information is questionable in its accuracy due to lack of substantial evidence or due to conflicting sources. Where this is known, the questionable data is enclosed within parentheses and a question mark is provided. For example, the place of Sudie Koontz's death is probably Shenandoah, Page Co., VA, but this has not been proven.

Occasionally sources conflict with each other when giving names and dates. In cases where it is not known which name or date is correct, both are shown with a logical "or" sign (|) separating them. For example, the date of Sudie Koontz's death is either 17 or 19 July 1929.

Other marriages of spouses are not shown.

It is not uncommon for someone to marry a blood relative, so that husband and wife are both descendants of the original ancestor. For example, Isaac Shuler's first wife was Amanda Virginia Kite. Her descendant ID is #958 (i.e., she is the eighth child of the fifth child of the ninth child of the original ancestor, which would make her and Isaac second-cousins, once removed). Any children of this couple will be listed under the male spouse's entry.

The term "issue" means children.

Where boundary changes have occurred for the places of birth, death, or marriage, both the historical and current location names are given. For example, a person born in 1800 in the portion of Rockingham Co., VA that became a part of Page County around 1831, the following appears:

B. 1800, Rockingham [Page] Co., Virginia

After each birth, death, or marriage, a series of numbers in superscript or brackets may appear. These are references to sources of the information. Accompanying the descendant listing will be a listing of "Source References". For examples, the source of information for Isaac Shuler's death is number 4886. The "Source References" listing will describe each of the sources.

Also accompanying the descendant listing is a "Name Index". This index contains an entry for each person mentioned in the descendant listing, along with a descendant identification number. Each entry shows a code of S, P, or a blank. A blank indicates a direct descendant; an S indicates a spouse of a direct descendant; and a P indicates a parent of a spouse of a direct descendant. The names are listed in alphabetical order by surname.

Acknowledgments

Many people throughout the years have contributed to this Blackwelder genealogy. Naming all of them would be difficult, but I'd like to acknowledge significant contributions by a few individuals.

First of all, I owe a great debt to my grandfather Demus C. Kizer who in 1968 sparked my interest in genealogy by sharing his stories about growing up in rural Arkansas during the early 1900s. I was 11 years old at the time, and was fascinated hearing about all of the different families and how they were connected. I immediately started writing to my Kizer relatives, sent away for census records and Civil War pension files and have kept going ever since.

Grandpa Demus's maternal grandmother was Thurza Malinda (Shaver) Kizer. When I started researching my Shaver ancestry in 1971, I lived in San Jose, Santa Clara County, California. From Grandpa, I learned of a Shaver relative, also living in San Jose, named Mary Alice Hamm. Alice (age 70, a retired high school teacher, living with her elderly mother and aunt) was an absolutely wonderful person. She was delighted to find a teenaged boy so interested in genealogy, and she eagerly shared the research she had done on her Shaver family during the previous 40-50 years! Among her findings was a letter from her great-aunt, dated 1923, that stated "Jacob Shaver was my father and married Thirza Moss. And my father's mother's maiden name was Blackwelder." Other records showed that Jacob Shaver (my 3rd-great-grandfather) was born in 1792 in what is now Cabarrus County, North Carolina. His mother Mary (Blackwelder) Shaver was believed to be a daughter of John Adam Blackwelder, who came to America in 1738 with his family.

Alice corresponded with others during the 1940s and 1950s who were researching the Blackwelder (and Schwarzwalder) ancestry, including Deward C. Williams, who published several books on the Blackwelder and allied families in the 1960s. Alice Hamm, her mother, and aunt made several trips to Germany to visit the ancestral home of the Schwarzwalder family in Durrn, Monchweiler, and St. Georgen in the Black Forest. While there, she took a large number of photographs and photocopied many of the parish records relating to this family. When I met Alice in 1971, she loaned me her copy of D. C. Williams' comprehensive book The Blackwelder and Allied Families of North Carolina and Illinois, which was published in 1963. That allowed me to trace my ancestry back to around 1600 in Germany.

In the early 1980s (after I had moved to Bakersfield, Kern County, California), I kept in touch with Alice and visited her in San Jose frequently. I had done quite a bit of work in the 1970s and early 1980s on the descendants of Jacob Shaver (son of Mary Blackwelder). Around 1982, Alice introduced me to a distant Shaver relative named W. Cary Anderson, then a college professor in the South American country of Colombia. Cary was planning to write a genealogy of the Shaver family, tracing back to that family's German origins. In the book that resulted (in 1983), The Ancestry and Descendants of John Shaver 1745-1835, a lot of the Blackwelder and Schwarzwalder research of Alice Hamm, D. C. Williams, and others was included.

During the next 17 years, I continued genealogical research on a number of my other ancestral lines and starting publishing my work on the Internet in the form of web sites in the late 1990s. Even though I moved to North Carolina in 1990 (where I currently live), I didn't resume any Blackwelder research until around July 2000. Although I don't have a copy of D. C. Williams' fine work on the Blackwelder family, I was inspired by rereading Cary Anderson's book on the Shavers and decided to try to put together a web site devoted to the family of John Blackwelder and his wife Elisabetha Maushardt.

The State Archives of North Carolina is located in Raleigh (about 15 miles from my home in Cary) and is a tremendous resource for genealogical research in this state. Also, Cabarrus County (the original North Carolina home of the Blackwelder family) is about 120 miles away and my job takes me to that part of the state quite often. The advent of the Internet and various online services like Prodigy and AOL has made a tremendous difference in helping researchers find each other, collaborate, and share information. I decided that, with these resources at my disposal, I figured it would be a good time to expand my Blackwelder research.

This Blackwelder web page would not have been possible without the contribution of dozens of researchers over many years. During my 30+ years of research, I have tried to carefully document the primary sources of each piece of information in my database in order to validate the extensive research done by myself and many others. I continue to be amazed and gratified at the sense of teamwork displayed by other genealogists I have met. Hopefully this compilation will help others now and in the future to carry on the work that has been done so far.

THIS VOLUME IS DEDICATED to

THE MEMORY OF

ALFRED ADLER DOANE, 1855-1918

author and compiler of THE DOANE FAMILY (1902) wherein he preserved a body of records, many of which would have otherwise been irretrievably lost to posterity but for the foresight and energy of him, our first historian; and of

MRS. LAURA WOODWARD ABBOTT, 1874-1960

who, in her "little black book", kept a record of the preliminary meetings and the organization of the Doane Family Association, and noted the highlights of each successive reunion from 1907 to 1959, inclusive, and by her indefagitable energy inspired its momentum for half a century ; and of the first official historian (1936) of the Association, who repeatedly and persistently urged its members to collect and send to her the records of their families and lineages; and of

MRS. HELEN MARTIN PITCHER, 1886-1944

GERALD DOAN McDONALD, 1905-1970

who, for nearly twenty-five years, 1946-1970, gave much of his leisure to collating, correlating and editing records for this volume and published "Supplement 1" which is now incorporated in it; and of whose great interest in and devotion to the progress of the Association prompted her husband, James H. Van Hoy. to establish in her memory and promote the Publication Fund which has enabled the Association to publish this volume.

MRS. HATTIE BELLE (DOANE) VAN HOY, 1892-1967

LIST OF ILLUSTRATIONS

DoANE Rock, Eastham, Massachusetts

Frontispiece

Doane Rock, a landmark in Eastham, is located just off Doane Road, northeast of the village. It is said to be the largest glacial boulder on Cape Cod. It stands almost as high as a ' typical' Cape Cod story-and-a-half cottage of ancient vintage. It is sometimes called, locally, Enoch's Rock, presumably because it was at one time associated by Enoch"*^ Doane, youngest son of Dr. David^ Doane (AAD p. 47-48, ^11). David Doane inherited from his father, John Doane, Jr., at least a portion of the land held by Deacon John Done, our progenitor, on which this rock stands. A few rods away, at the end of a little used wood road, on the shore ofNauset Bay, stands the granite post marking the site of Deacon John's cabin which some of his descendants erected in 1869 (see frontispiece of AAD). Recorded April the 5th 1706 pr John Paine, Town Clark."—Land Grants, 1659-1710, p. 200.

"Granted by the Town of Eastham to Jonathan Higgins Junior of Eastham . . . in consideration for the land he let John Paine have near the Barley neck on the town's account to exchange for Samson's Iland as may appear by deed and records . . . lying near the now dwelling house of sd Jonathan Higgins, two and two-thirds acres of land. (Bounds given.) Dated 1706." —Land Grants, 1659-1710, p. 201.

On the same page are two similar grants under like conditions of adjoining land to Joseph Higgins and to Elisha Higgins. It appears from these three grants that the land the three Higginses gave up to John Paine in exchange for equivalent land from the town had been land belonging to Jonathan Higgins, Sr., being close to his former dwelling-house, and had passed in some way, probably by gift, to the three younger men. No record of a will or other settlement of the estate of Jonathan Higgins, Sr., appears on the records at Barnstable and all the deeds recorded there before 1827 were destroyed by fire at that time. In the absence of such records, these grants become the only evidence available, and they point directly to the conclusions here reached.

Much of this is from secondary sources, but I have tried to weed out obvious errors. In general, the closer to the present and to the core families, the more reliable the data. Corrections and additions are welcome. I have made an effort to include entries from the federal census wherever possible. These are cited by year only: for the particular locale, if not on the current page, it can generally be found on the page of another member of the immediate family.

A Giffin Family History by John (Jack) Howard White

Introduction

This web page is dedicated to my Uncle Jack White who passed away on November 20, 2006. This document was written by my uncle, John (Jack) Howard White, who lived in Deep River, Ontario. He was the eldest in his family of originally seven children, now two. The numbers you see to the left of a person's name, such as "39 Simon Giffin", represents my uncle's own id numbering system. The roman numerals beside someone's name represent the birth order in the family. I have edited some of the content for consistentcy of province and state abbreviations, and spelling.

I have added some notes based on the 1900 Census of Canada which I helped index at www.automatedgenealogy.com, and on the US Censuses indexed at www.ancestry.com.

Geoffrey Wyght, Cincinnati, OH

John Giffin corresponded with his sister, Lucy Giffin until the time of her death in 1919, from his home in San Bernadino CA. The 1920 US Census has a George D. There is a Frank Riches in the 1900 Census of Canada in Brockville, South Ward, d-2 living with a brother George Riches. Frank was a widow at this time. Ulysses is probably a cousin to Frank and George but I have no proof of that. Frank was born October 7, 1867. In the 1910 US Census of Alexandria Bay, Jefferson County, New York, there is a Frank Riches who emigrated from Canada in the late 1890's or 1902, depending on which US Census you read. His wife is Anna, 38 at last birthday in 1910, born in Canada. Daughter Leila 6 at last birthday in 1910. By the 1930 US Census, Frank is a widow. It is recorded that Frank was 24 when he was married. There is a Frank P. Riches buried in the Plessis Cemetery in Alexandria Bay, New York. Born 1867, died 1954, married 11 Oct 1901. There is an Anna Riches (ne Wright) buried in the Plessis Cemetery in Alexandria Bay, New York. Wife of Frank P. Riches, born 17 Sep 1871, died 15 Jul 1929. Usage Tips

Mayflower Descendant was published by the Massachusetts Society of Mayflower Descendants quarterly from 1899 (vol. 1) through 1937 (vol. 34), except for 1926, 1929, and 1936. It was revived as a biannual publication in 1985 (vol. 35) through 1998 (vol. 48). It was started again in 2000 (vol. 49) and continues to be published biannually.

From an editorial in Volume 35 (1985): "The Mayflower Descendant was last issued in 1937. At that time, George Ernest Bowman, founder of the Massachusetts Society of Mayflower Descendants, Secretary for the Society's first 45 years, and only editor of the The Mayflower Descendant through 34 volumes beginning in 1899, was 77 years old and in ill health."

A footnote from The New England Historical and Genealogical Register, p. 123:54, in an article entitled "Thomas Gibbs of Sandwich, Mass." by Lydia B. (Phinney) Brownson and Maclean W. McLean: "Frequent reference will be made to this quarterly [The Mayflower Descendant] which we will designate simply as May. Des.. Mr. Bowman was an exceptionally careful copyist. This in addition to his ability to read the difficult old script and his unusually broad knowledge as to the meaning of contemporary abbreviations, etc., makes his transcription of Sandwich Vital Records there published throughly reliable."

Biographical Summary

John Cooke was born in late 1606 or early 1607, and was baptized at the French Walloon church in Leiden, Holland between January and March, 1607.

John spent his early years in Leiden, Holland, and came with his father on the Mayflower in 1620 at the age of about 13 or 14. John was then raised in Plymouth; his mother and sisters came over on the ship Anne in 1623, along with his future wife Sarah Warren. He would marry Sarah, the daughter of Mayflower passenger Richard Warren, in 1634 at Plymouth. They would go on to have five children all born in Plymouth over the next twenty years. John would become a deacon in the Plymouth Church, and in 1636, Samuel Eaton (who was still breast-feeding when he came on the Mayflower) was apprenticed to him.

At some point, during the late 1640s, John Cooke "fell into the error of Anabaptistry", and was cast out of the Church. The Plymouth Church records state that "This John Cooke although a shallow man became a cause of trouble and dissention in our Church and gave just occasion of their casting him out; so that Solomon's words proved true in him that one sinner destroyeth much good."

John Cooke removed from Plymouth and took up residence in Dartmouth, where he died in 1695. His wife Sarah was still alive in 1696, called "a very ancient woman"; her exact death date was not recorded but it probably was not long after.

John Cooke was baptized at Leyden, Holland between January and March 1607/8 and was, thus, about thirteen years old on arrival at Plymouth with his father, Francis Cooke in 1620 on the Mayflower. He married in Plymouth on March 28, 1634, Sarah Warren, daughter of Pilgrim Richard and Elizabeth Warren of the Mayflower.

John became a deacon of the Plymouth Church in the 1630's, but he was excommunicated from the church ca. 1757. Probably around the time he was excommunicated, he became a Baptist. He was a Baptist preacher and about 1680 established a Baptist church in what is now Tiverton, near Adamsville. This was the beginning of the society which has included members of the Wilcox and allied families since its founding and which has worshipped in the Old Stone Church since it was built in 1841.

He served on juries and on various special assignments, and was a long-time Plymouth deputy. In 1664 he was granted 15 acres of land near Dartmouth and he had other significant land dealings in the area, owning 3/34 of the original grant. Sometime between 1653 and 1660, he moved to that part of Dartmouth now known as Oxford Village, Fairhaven. In 1672, the town of Dartmouth gave him Ram (now Pope's) Island in recompense for former services.

In 1666 he was a deputy for Dartmouth. John was one of the advisers for the defense of Dartmouth against the Indians. He became a magistrate for Dartmouth authorized to marry, to administer oaths, and to issue warrants for cour trials at Plymouth. He served the town several years as a selectman and was ten times a representative to the General Court. He was one of the owners of the first vessels built in Plymouth. He was a constant trader in lands at Plymouth and Dartmouth and owned lands at Puncatest.

Prior to the Indian uprising (King Phillip's War) in 1675 he converted his home into a garrison house. This was the haven of safety of the inhabitants in the early spring of 1676. His home was later burned by the savages.

John Cooke was the last surviving male passenger of the Mayflower. John died 23 Nov 1695, having lived through the entire life of the Plymouth Colony. The will of John Cooke of Dartmouth, County of Bristol dated November 9, 1694, proved April 16, 1696, mentions wife Sarah; son-in-law Arthur Hathaway and his wife Sarah his daughter; son-in-law Stephen West and his wife Mercy his daughter.; Jonathan Delano; grandson Thomas Taber; and granddaughter Hester Perry. On December 7, 1696 widow Sarah Cooke presented the inventory.

In Fairhaven a short distance north of the New Bedford-Fairhaven bridge, near the river, is a large boulder to which is attached a bronze table, on which, below a representation of the Mayflower is an inscription. A picture of this appears on this page. The exact location of the grave of John Cooke is, however, a matter of doubt. Somewhere in Fairhaven is about as definite as it can now be determined. The boulder with its inscription was placed 200 years after his death. That he as the "first white settler of this town" applies to Fairhaven, rather than old Dartmouth.

Francis Cooke was a 1620 Mayflower passenger originally from Blythe, Yorkshire, England and later of Kent County. The records in Holland describe him as a woolcomber and he appeared there before the arrival of the Clyfton/Robinson Separatists.

The date of his marriage to Hester Mahieu in Leyden, Holland has often been printed incorrectly (e.g., 30 June 1603). However, an article in Mayflower Descendant 27:145-55 (New Light on Francis Cooke and His Wife Hester Mahieu and Their Son John) goes to great pains to give an estimated date and states the the previous published date was incorrect. Marriage intentions were entered July 4, 1603 and Luly 5, 1603 which means the three banns were proclaimed July 6, July 13 and July 20 (three successive Sundays); therefore, the marriage took place on or after July 20, 1603. Hester Mahieu, the daugther of Jennie le Mahieu of Canterbury, England died. after June 8, 1666 in Plymouth.

Francis Cooke appears frequently in Plymouth records on grand and trial juries, as a surveyor of the highways, on various ad hoc committees, and in a number of land transactions. He came to Plymouth with son John, and his wife and their daughter, Jane and son, Jacob arrived on the ship Anne in 1623. Two more children, Hester and Mary, were born at Plymouth. Francis died April 7, 1663 "above 80" years of age.

William Bradford's 1651 account says, "Francis Cooke is still living, a very olde man, and hath seene his children's children have children; after his wife came over (with other of this children) he hath 3 still livng by her, all maried and have 5 children so their increase is 8. And his sone John which came over with him, is maried and hath 4 children living."

The will of Francis Cooke of Plymouth, dated 7th 10th mo. 1659, exhibited 5 June 1663, names wife Hester and son John. His inventory is dated May 1, 1663. An agreement made June 8, 1666 between John Cooke, Jacob Cooke, Hester Wright the wife of Richard Wright and Mary Tomson the wife of John Tompson disposed of the land of Francis Cooke. The agreement mentions Hester Cookie is still living. On the same date John Cooke confirmed to Richard Wright and Thomas Mitchell, in equal shares, sixty acres of upland, near Jones River Meadow formerly given them by Francis Cooke. On July 5, 1670 a court record mentions that land called "old Cookes Holes," lying at Jones River was given by Francis Cooke to Richard Wright and Thomas Mitchell and since his (Francis) decease confirmed unto Richard Wright and Thomas Mitchell by John Cooke. On 1 Aug. 1672 Thomas Mitchell of Duxbury sold to Richard Wright of Plymouth his share in the above grant and states it was given to him by his grandfather, Francis Cooke.

List of passengers on the Mayflower

From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

This is a list of the passengers on board the Mayflower during its trans-Atlantic voyage of September 6 - November 9, 1620, the majority of them becoming the settlers of Plymouth Colony in what is now Massachusetts. Of the passengers, 37 were members of the separatist Leiden congregation seeking freedom of worship in the New World. The Mayflower launched with 102 passengers, as well as at least two dogs. One baby was born during the trip and named Oceanus Hopkins. Another, Peregrine (meaning "wanderer") White, was born on the Mayflower in America on November 20, before the settlement at Plymouth. About half of these emigrants died in the first winter. Many Americans can trace their ancestry back to one or more of these individuals who, 'Saints' and 'Strangers' together, would become known as the Pilgrims.

At least two dogs are known to have participated in the settling of Plymouth. There may have been other animals on the Mayflower, but none are mentioned.[5]

[John G. Belden; P. S. Newton; Simon; Giffin; Wethersfield; March; Gen. Putnam] (News Article)

JOHN G. BELDEN, at P. S. Newton's gun-store, has some interesting relics of revolutionary days, which it might be well for our antiquarians to examine. They are in the diary kept by his grandfather, Simon Giffin of Wethersfield, quarter-master; and his official quarter-master's book, running from March 30th, 1777, to 1780. The records are brief, but the dates and memoranda may furnish evidence conclusive of disputed matters. Gen. Putnam is referred to, and various other revolutionary heroes. All such relics of this glorious first war for liberty should be carefully preserved; these are highly valued by Mr. Belden.

Notes for Simon Giffin

Notes for Simon Giffin, as researched by Judith Luce Redman, with additional notes by Angela Higley Paris.

It is believe that Simon Giffin sailed from Belfast, Ireland arriving in Boston, MA before 1738 or 1739. He lived in the environs of Boston for a few years [during which time he met and married Jennet Lechman, his first wife] left, circa 1739, to make his home in Halifax, Nova Scotia, Canada.

[In 1739-40, there was a measles epidemic in the Boston area, which could have been the reason for his departure.]

His early occupation is not known, but in Halifax, he was a distiler and his business interests may have caused him to travel to Boston from time to time. He was living in Halifax when his first wife died in 1752 and he probabley lived there before that time.

[Intererstingly, all four of Simon and Jennet's children, George, Simon, Jr., Elizabeth and John, were born in Boston, MA. The eldest died in Halifax, but the others all died in CT.]

Simon owned property in the south suburbs of Halifax, as well as 500 acres of the land in the Town of Chester, NS. These holding are described in "Heuvelton to Halifax: A Diary." It is believe that he acquired property also in Hardwick, Worcester County, MA in 1759 and 1769, but there is no indication that he lived there.

[Simon married Jennet "Jane" Miller Brown some time after the death of his first wife, Jennet Lechman. This would have been after 1752.]

Simon's will, dated June 21, 1768, was presented for probate on September 14, 1774 and duly proven. Probate was granted the following day to his [second wife, "Jane"] Jennet Giffin, widow and relict, sole exectrix. Simon Giffin was buried September 11, 1774 in the old English burial ground of St. Paul's Church in Halifax, NS with his two wices, Jennet Lechman (1st) and Jennet "Jane" Miller Brown (2nd).

FIRST GENERATION

1 THOMAS[1] ROGERS b. Watford, co. Northamptonshire, England ca. 1571; d. Plymouth in the winter of 1620/21 "in the first sickness"; son of William and Eleanor (-----) Rogers.

He m. Watford, Northamptonshire 24 Oct. 1597 ALICE COSFORD, bp. Watford 10 May 1573; dau. of George and Margart (-----) Cosford. Both she and Thomas were named in her father's will.

The primary evidence gathered from Dutch and New England sources establishes that Thomas Rogers had a wife named Alice who survived him, and at least four ch.; Joseph, John, Elizabeth and Margaret, prob. b. in that order. Joseph was likely the eldest because he came to Plymouth in 1620 with his father, while the birth order of the others is suggested by the 1622 tax lists. Thomas left England by 1616 or 1617 when he bought a house at Leiden. Another son Thomas died young and a possible son Richard also died young.

In the 1623 Plymouth Colony land division, Joseph Rogers was allotted two acres; one for himself and one on behalf of his late father. He may have been living in the household of Governor Bradford with whom he was grouped on 22 May 1627 in the division of cattle. Joseph and twelve other inhabitants of Plymouth received "an heyfer of the last year which was of the Great white back cow that was brought over in the Ann, and two shee goats."

The 1622 Leiden poll tax list revealed that when Thomas Rogers left for America, his wife Alice, two daus. Elizabeth and Margaret and son John remained in Leiden in the household of Anthony Clements, apparently one of the English Separatists who did not emigrate to Plymouth.

Thomas Rogers died in the first sickness, but in 1650 son Joseph was still living and married with six ch. Only one of his other ch., John Rogers, can be authenticated from New England records. John prob. arrived in Plymouth about 1630 when the last of the Separatists arrived from Leiden. John was taxed in Plymouth on 25 March 1633. In April 1640 Joseph Rogers and John Rogers, "his brother," were granted 50 acres each at North River (Marshfield) thus proving John's identity.

SECOND GENERATION

2 JOSEPH[2] ROGERS (Thomas[1]) bp. Watford, co. Northamptonshire, Eng. 23 Jan. 1602/3; d. bet. 2 and 15 Jan. 1677/8; bur. Eastham in Old Cove Burial Ground.

He m. HANNAH ----- who was named in his will 2 Jan. 1677/8. She may not have been his only wife, and may not have been the mother of his ch.

Joseph Rogers came to Plymouth with his father in 1620 aboard the Mayflower. In the 1623 land division, he received two acres, one for himself and one on behalf of his father. Joseph may have been living in the household of Governor Bradford with whom he received his share of cattle in 1627. Joseph was made a freeman in 1633 and was taxed 25 March 1633, just bef. the birth of his first child. On 2 March 1635/6 he was granted permission to operate a ferry over the Jones River near his house, and on 7 June 1636 he was first recorded as serving on a jury. He was granted 30 acres of land on 5 Nov. 1638, and was made a constable of Duxbury 3 March 1639/40. On this latter date, Joseph was one of the purchasers or "old comers" to whom land was granted, and on 6 April 1640 he and his brother John were each granted 50 acres of upland. Joseph was one of a group of Duxbury inhabitants who were to lay out land 20 Oct. 1645.

Joseph Rogers apparently moved to Eastham, then called Nauset, about 1647 for on 1 June of that year he was appointed lieutenant to exercise the men in arms there. He apparently spent a brief time at Sandwich in the early 1650s. He served on the council of war in June and Oct. 1658. Lt. Rogers was freed from his Lieutenancy 1 Oct. 1661, but reestablished 8 June 1664. He was a selectman at Eastham in 1670. On 31 Jan. 1672 Lt. Joseph Rogers of Eastham sold a piece of land. No wife was mentioned in any of his deeds.

The original will of Joseph Rogers is no longer in existence. A copy of his will, written in the Plymouth Colony Record Book at the time of his death, does not mention his dau. Mary, but reads as follows:

> I Joseph Rogers Seni[r]: of Eastham of Good understanding and prfect memory being weake in body; and not knowing the the day of my departure out of this life, doe thinke meet to Leave this as my Last will and Testament.

The inventory of Joseph Rogers' estate was taken 15 Jan. 1677/8 and the will was probated 5 March 1677/8. Depositions of Jonathan Sparrow and Samuel Berry show that the grandson called "Benjah Higgens" in the will was also known as Beriah Higgens. Son Thomas Rogers d. bef. completing the settlement of the estate so Capt. Sparrow and remaining son John Rogers were impowered to handle the settlement.

Thomas Rogers left no will, but the inventory of his estate was taken 7 Aug. 1678, and includes gun, sword, bandoliers, canoe and Rhemish testament. On 8 July 1704, 26 years after the decease of Thomas Rogers late of Eastham, intestate, the Barnstable court ordered an additional settlement made to his dau. Hannah, a minor at the time of his death, but now the wife of Amaziah Harding. Payment was to be made by sons Thomas and Eleazer Rogers, and by the heirs of Joseph Rogers, eldest son of the dec. On 30 Oct. that year, John Rogers, brother of the dec., complained that the settlement still had not been completed.

- Sex: M
- Birth: 1711 in Northern part of Ireland
- Death: 9 SEP 1774 in Halifax, Nova Scotia, Canada
- Note:

Ref SIMON GIFFIN & HIS DESCENDANTS p. 33:

SIMON GIFFIN,born cira 1711, in the northern part of Ireland according to family legend, died in Halifax, Nova Scotia, CAnada, 9 Sept. 1774. He was buried there 11 Sept. 1774 in the old English burial ground of St. Paul's Church with his two wives.
The intent of Simon Giffin to marry Jennet Lechman was published 24 Dec. 1739 in Boston, Mass. Three weeks later, 21 Jan. 1739 (sic), it was recorded: "Simon Giffen of Boston married Jennet Lechman." The ceremony was performed by a Presbyterian clergyman, Rev. John Moorhead. The Christian name of his wife was proably Jennet, for her gravestone in St. Paul's Cemetery reads: "Jenet Giffen ye wif of Mr. Simon Giffen ... departed this life Dec ye 27th 1752 aged 34 years."
He married, secondly, in Bridgewater, Mass., 5 Jan. 1758, Jennet (Miller) Brown, widow of David Brown who had died 2 April 1753. Although in all know records his second wife's name as Jennet, the inscription on her gravestone indicates that "Mrs. Jane Giffin widow of Mr. Simon Giffin died Dec 8th, 1775, aged 59 years ..." There were no children by this marriage.
It is believed that Simon Giffin sailed from Belfast, Ireland, arriving in Boston, Mass., before 1738/9. He lived in the environs of Boston for a few years and left, cira 1749, to make his home in Halifax, N.S. His early occupation is not known, but in Halifax he was a distiller, and his business interests may have caused him to travel to Boston from time to time. He was living in Halifax when his first wife died in 1752, and he probably lived there earlier. A diary kept by Rev. John Seccombe records that on 4 and 10 Dec. 1750 Simon was in Halifax. (Ref. "Heuvelton to Halifax, A Diary," Septmeber 4, 1881.)
Simon Giffin owned property inthe south suburbs of Halifax, as well s 500 acres of land in the Town of Chester, N.S. These holdings are describe in "Heuvelton to Halifax, A Diary."
According to research undertaken by family members it was reported that he acquired property also in Hardwick, Worcester Co., Mass., but nothing has been found to indicate that he lived there. When he bought land in Hardwick from Joseph Green and Isaac Walker, 3 March 1759, his residence was stated as Halifax. A deed from Aaron and Stephen Forbush, conveying land in Harwick, 9 April 1759, calls him "of Bridgewater, Mass." In 1769, Elisha Higgins of Hardwick (father-in-law of Simon Giffin) sold to Simon Giffin "of Halifax" land he had taken on execution following a judgment in the Inferior Court at Worcester.

Simon Giffin's Will, dated 21 June 1768, was presented for probate 14 Sept. 1774 and duly proven. Probvate was granted 15 Sept. to Jennet Giffin, widow and relict, sole executrix. The Will reads as follows:

DAVID DOANE GIFFIN

Aug. 17 trip to St. Lawrence County, NY to find information about David.

Information from "Simon Giffin and His Descendants" (in my possession) says he settled in Oswagatchie Township, St. Lawrence Co. in 1800. He built a log house on the bank of the St. Lawrence River and later built a house a short way back from the river along what is now Route 37 and moved the log house to the new house and attached it to use for a kitchen. The home was located six miles up-river from Ogdensburg (The St. Lawrence River flows South to North) near Morristown with a view of the river. I made the assumption that his farm was near the intersection of Stone Church Road and Route 37 (known as the River Road) since he was a founding trustee of the 2nd Presbyterian, or Old Stone Church.

I had booked reservations at a Quality Inn that I thought might be nearest to the farm. It was between Ogdensburg and Morristown on route 37 which isknown locally as the River Road. That stretch of road is only about 10 or 12 miles. All the places I was interested in are within a short distance of each other.

The first day we arrived in STC, I saw a house near the intersection of Stone Church Road and Rt. 37 facing the river, that reminded me of the picture I had seen in the Simon Giffin book. I would later dismiss this idea. That morning, Tues. 17, we went to the Ogdensburg Library as our first stop. The historian, Linda Marshall, who I had been communication with by e-mail was not working until Wednesday afternoon so we did some research in the library, not finding anything helpful, and left to return Wednesday PM and talk to Linda.

We drove to Canton, the county seat of SLC to look for deeds and wills. Talked to a young lady, Chandra, who gave us info about the offices in the courthouse. Found some interesting information in the wills section and made copies but nothing specific about where the farm might be located. Found indexes of deeds recorded, but did not pursue it because it was confusing to me and I knew it would need a professional to trace back. Chandra suggested we go to the Real Property office there to see if they could help. That is where all SLC land records ore held. They were very willing to help, but had no records back that far. A large map on the wall from 1856 did have the name of George Giffin (David's son) on a plot of about 123 acres along rt. 37. David Doane Giffin had owned that piece of land since 1800. A clerk tried to find that plot using their computer program and determined it was near Lee Road and rt. 37. He gave me a birds-eye photo of the house on that property. Later. When we viewed that house, I knew it was not the original home that David had built. It just didn't feel right. Lee Road and Stone Church Road are only about 2 miles apart, but for some reason I had gotten Stone Church Road stuck in my mind and couldn't shake that feeling. Chandra said we should go to the county historian there in Canton and could probably get a lot of information. Drove by, but they were closed for the day and didn't open until afternoon so back to Ogdensburg.

It had been suggested that we go to Heuvelton to the town clerk of Oswegatchie Township where all the township records are kept. They seem to use the term "town" and "township" to mean the same thing. Ogdensburg is the only city in SLC and Canton, Morristown, Heuvelton, etc. are villages. Why the courthouse and county records are kept in Canton, and the township records are in Heuvelton I do not know. Their system of government is different than I am used to. The very nice town clerk/tax collector, Janet, found a couple folders about Nathan Ford and Dan S. Giffin, brother and nephew of David, but no information that wasn't already in the Giffin book. While in Heuvelton, we stopped by Pickens General Store which was being restored and was there when Nathan Ford Giffin and his family lived there. Of course while were there Wayne, who talks to everyone, struck up a conversation with the lady there and she was talking about restoring the building and was interested that I had ancestors who had lived in that town. She told us that a historian lived in the old Pickens house and would probably be in any time. She called her and said come on over that there were some people interested in talking to her. About ten minutes later a lady came in and we were introduced to her. Her name was Linda Marshall! I laughed and told her we were the people who were coming to see her that afternoon and I was the person who had been e-mailing back and forth about the Giffins. She said it was just meant to be that we should meet like this. Something was bringing us together. She didn't know at the time just how eerily right she would be. We met with her that afternoon and she would do some research for us. She also suggested that we go to the historical society in Canton.

We made another trip to Canton Thursday to visit the Historical Society library and spent some time doing research there, very successful! I was given maps, Rogerson's 1858, Beers 1865, and a map of Oswegatchie Township dated before 1900. These pinpointed where the Giffin farm was and agreed with the large map that was on the wall in the Real Properties office. The area was lot 3 of the original division of Oswegatchie and was a long, narrow plot from a line east of the River Road (rt. 27) to the river and consisted of 123.20 acres. But I still did not know exactly where the graves of David, Jerusha, and Edward were. I was getting ready to leave when the clerk asked me if possibly one of the men buried there had been in the Revolutionary War. I said that I didn't remember but it was possible, David had been a captain in the War of 1812, but I had forgotten about Edward. She said that they had records of the burial places of Revolutionary War soldiers and the first place she looked was a notebook labeled "Farm Burials". There was a hand-written sheet headed "3 graves on farm", Riverside Drive, R.2, Ogdesnburg, NY. I didn't understand the R. 2, but thought it might possibly be a mail route. The sheet described the place as "2nd place on left before Spencer Merry Farms, off from the Stone Church Road". This information was given to Emma Ruth Kirby Gilmore in 1990 "without a date", and listed Jerusha Thompson Giffin, (wife of David Doane Giffin), David Doane Giffin, and Edward Giffin (brother of David). We then made another trip to the Ogdensburg library to talk to Linda Marshall. She knew exactly where the Spencer Merry farm was because she had ridden horses there when she was younger, and there had been a farm market that was very well known. It was no longer in business, but the name was on a large shed and I remembered that I had noticed it, since we had been up and down that road (Rt. 37) many times. We were familiar with the Stone Church Road also and had earlier driven up to see the old church. The building had been built after David's death, but the organized church is the same now as then.

Before we left the library, Linda gave me another folder that Janet, the town clerk had found after we left Heuvelton. I read through and found it was some correspondence between Florence Giffin Martin, one of the authors of the Giffin genealogy book and Persis Boyesen, a local historian. A small, hand-written note indicated that there were some bible records in the Heuvelton library that said " my mother (meaning Abigail Higgins Giffin Hubbell Henderson) died in ????? Vermont". I couldn't read the name of the town, but Linda thought it was Rutland. I decided to go back to Heuvelton during library hours to check it out.

We then drove back down Riverside Drive, (the River Road, Rt. 37). Between Stone Church Road and Spencer Merry farm were three houses. The second before Merry farm was the house that I had seen when we first came there! I knew it was the original house because of the shape from the side. I was very excited! Wayne said I should go knock on the door and see if I could find out more about the house. I am more hesitant than he is about something like that and said let me think about it for a while.

We went back to the motel and decided to have supper at the Gran View restaurant attached to the motel. While there, we talked with a lady, Sharon Wells, that we had met earlier. She and her husband were living at the motel for the summer and he took care of the plants and landscaping there as a hobby. He had been a chef at that restaurant for several years prior. They were retired to Florida, but returned every summer and lived at the motel, which has been owned by local people for many years.

Wayne said that we should ask her if she knew about that house since she and her husband were from that area. She came over to our table and when I asked her about the place she said that she wasn't sure but her friend who had lived here for many years was coming in to have a birthday party for her husband and they were all celebrating together, and she would probably know something. In a few minutes Sharon called her friend over to talk to us. I explained what we were looking for and said that I had a description of the location of the house, and proceeded to say it was two houses north of the Spencer Merry farm. She looked at me, then looked at Sharon, and I thought maybe she didn't understand where I meant, so I said second house south from Stone Church Road and it has a salt-box shape on the north side. Then she said, that sounds like my house, and she and Sharon looked at each other and Sharon said that sounds like your house. Then Connie said "that IS my house". I was dumbfounded to say the least and couldn't say anything for a minute, then she said that they had found two tombstones when her husband was digging footings for a sun room and together we both said "Giffin". We all were absolutely in shock then! She (Connie) was so excited that they had found someone who knew about David and Jerusha Giffin. I don't know which one of us was most excited--probably me, but so was she. She then explained that they had found the stones buried in about 3 feet of sand and dug them out and cleaned them up and put them in their yard and made a planting around them. They tried to find out about the people but had no luck and thought it would probably be a mystery forever. Since they had found no other stones, they knew of no children and thought maybe they had none. Connie said she didn't know why, but she felt drawn to this couple and almost protective of the stones. Their friends had teased them about keeping grave stones in their yard of people they had no connection too, but Connie said that almost every morning when she passed them to go to work, she would say "Good morning David, good morning Jerusha". We talked for a few more minutes and I asked if I might come by in the morning and take pictures. She said of course and then they went off to celebrate Ted's birthday. My supper was cold by that time but no matter--what I had hoped for at the very best, but had not expected, had just happened. And at almost the last minute as we were leaving the next morning.

After checking out of the motel Friday morning, we went to Ted and Connie Martin's home to take pictures. They are very proud of their home and have taken very good care of it. Ted is a retired music teacher and Connie works as the Commissioner of Jurors at the court house in Canton. She is retiring this coming fall, and took a half day off from work to see us. I brought a picture of the house from the Giffin genealogy book that had been taken in 1885 and she was so happy to see what the home had originally looked like. The front porch had been closed in and a dormer added on the front when they bought it, and they just recently added a sun room on the back--hence finding the stones! Both stones are very legible and the epitapth on Davids is clear and readable.

In Memory of
David Giffin
Who died
April 12, 1840
In the 75 year of his age

His mind was tranquil and serene no terrors in his looks were seen
His saviors smile dispelled the gloom and smoothed his passing to the tomb

Jerusha
Wife of David
Giffin
Died
Dec. 13, 1849
In her 80 year

The Martins also showed us the field beside their house where a neighbor said that there had been an old cemetery with only a few stones. Those were probably David, Jerusha, and Edward. We don't know of any others buried there on the farm. They also had no idea why the stones had ended up buried three feet beside their house. And Edwards stone has not been found.

We left then to make a quick stop at the Heuvelton library before heading for Vermont, then home. At the library, the lady tried to find any Giffin bible records, but had no luck. The library is very small and very dis-organized. There may be records there in among a pile somewhere. That was only a very small disappointment on the trip. I left Oswegatchie having found way more than I had expected!

Two other successful finds on this trip were:

In Morristown's Pine Hill Cemetery we found (Thanks to Ann Cady's website—the lady who read stones and took pictures of every grave she could find in St. Lawrence County) the graves of George Giffin and Sarah Hill Giffin, David Doane's son and my 2nd great-grand parents. The pictures and information can be found under George's name in my large blue Giffin genealogy notebook.

In Bennington Vermont at the Old Congregational Church Cemetery (where Robert Frost is buried) we found the graves and common stone of Elisha and Hannah Doane Higgins, the parents of Abigail Higgins Giffin. She was the mother of David Doane Giffin and first wife of Simon Giffin Jr. Elisha and Hannah Higgins are my 5th great-grand parents. The pictures and information can also be found in my large blue Giffin genealogy notebook under the name of Higgins.

A very successful trip!

ANCESTRAL SUMMARY:

The ancestry of Francis Cooke is not known. Several ficticious ancestries have been presented, some clearly hoaxes (one can be found in "New Light on the Pilgrim Story", chapter 6. For a discussion of why this is a hoax, see English Ancestry and Homes of the Pilgrim Fathers, by Charles Banks.

There is conflicting evidence about the birth of Francis Cooke. A note scribbled in Bradford's Journal says Francis Cooke died above the age of 80, meaning he was born before 1583. However, in August 1643, he was in a list of men of Plymouth between the age of 16 and 60 allowed to bear arms. This means he was born after 1583. Also, he was married in Leyden in 1603, so he probably would have been at least 21 at the time. This means a birth before 1583. The fact that all these records seem to conflict suggests that Francis Cook was probably born in 1583.

Charles Banks mentions a Francis Cooke baptized on 6 April 1572, in Biddenden, Kent, England, son of Thomas. However, this person is about ten years too old for the Francis of the Mayflower. Cooke had been living in Holland about eight years before the arrival of John Robinson and the rest of the Pilgrims. His wife Hester was from Canterbury, England, so perhaps that is where he is from as well. Francis is described as a "Woolcomber from England" in Dutch records dating back as early as 25 April 1603.

Francis' wife Hester Mahieu was the daughter of Jaques and Jenne Mahieu, French Waloon refuges that had fled to Canterbury, England where Hester was born about 1584. When in Leyden, Holland, from 1603 until the arrival of the Pilgrims, Francis and Hester were members of the French Waloon church. However, in 1606 Francis and his wife left for a trip to Norwich, and they returned in 1607 to have their son baptized in the Church, and in 1608 they rejoined communion with the Walloon Church in Leyden. Sometime between 1611 and 1618, the Cookes switched and began communion with the Pilgrims' Separatist church in Leyden.

In 1620, Francis and son John embarked on the Mayflower, leaving behind his wife and younger children (who would come later when the Colony was more settled).

Will of Francis Cooke

BIOGRAPHICAL SUMMARY:

William Bradford recorded his list of passengers that came over in the Mayflower: "Francis Cooke and his son John, but his wife and other children came afterwards". Later in 1651, he writes "Francis Cooke is still living, a very old man, and hath seen his children's children have children. After his wife came over with other of his children; he hath three still living by her, all married and have five children, so their increase is eight. And his son John which came over with him is married, and hath four children living."

Francis and Hester (Mahieu) Cooke had lived in Leyden as early as 1603, about five years before the Pilgrims fled there from England. In 1606, they left Leyden to live at Norwich, England where they joined a French Walloon church; however, they did not stay long in England--probably because of religious persecution--and by 1607 were back in Leyden as members of the French Walloon church there.

Francis Cooke, born probably in England about 1582, married in Leiden, Holland, (intention June 30, 1603) Hester Mahieu, born between about 1582 and 1588, probably the daughter of Jacques and Jenne/Jeanne (_____) Mahieu.

Other than being identified as a bachelor and a "wool comber," little to nothing is known of his early life. He and his son John originally embarked on the Speedwell, but were transferred to the Mayflower. Hester and the other children would follow in the Ann in August 1623. Leading an apparently exemplary life, Francis Cooke was among the signers of the Mayflower Compact, a purchaser in the rights of the London "Adventurers," a freeman, and in general a good citizen frequently called upon and appointed to various committees to perform various duties. He and his wife Hester toiled in this new land for some 40-plus years before leaving their legacy to others that would follow. [See "Wills" elsewhere on this site]

This database of Illinois Civil War Veterans indexes the first eight volumes of the nine volume publication, Report of the Adjutant General of the State of Illinois. (The ninth volume lists veterans of Black Hawk, Mexican, and Spanish-American Wars.) This 1900-1901 publication, originating from the rosters maintained during the Civil War by the Illinois Adjutant General, is the result of an 1899 Illinois statute mandating that a corrected version of these records and subsequent publications be printed. The names of approximately 250,000 men, organized into 175 regiments, are found in its pages. The work includes a roster and history for each regiment.

The database was created and donated to the Illinois State Archives by Fred Delap of Kansas, Illinois. Delap, a volunteer with the Edgar County Genealogical Society, spent two years of evenings and weekends compiling the index on his personal computer. Delap has also indexed the names of Illinois veterans of the War of 1812, Black Hawk War, Mexican War and Spanish-American War.

The National Park Service has established the web site, Civil War Soldiers' and Sailors' System, which eventually will list all soldiers who served in the Civil War. This site currently provides a searchable database of all African-American soldiers involved in that conflict.

Histories of Illinois Civil War Regiments and Units

The histories of Illinois Civil War regiments and units are included in the first eight volumes of the nine volume publication, Report of the Adjutant General of the State of Illinois (1900-1902). (The ninth volume lists units of the Black Hawk, Mexican and Spanish-American Wars as well as the War of 1812.) The histories, some written shortly after the war's end, are the work of numerous authors throughout the intervening years. The 1886 version of the Adjutant General's Report included regimental histories compiled by that office which had not previously been published. The final 1900-1902 republication of the report incorporated revisions and corrections to the histories. Researchers may also wish to consult images and histories of flags of Illinois regiments at John Schmale's web site. In recognition of the service of Illinois' six regiments during the Mexican War, the assignment of regimental numbers for infantry began with seven.

The histories of Illinois Civil War regiments and units are provided in a PDF (Portable Document Format)

"ONLY A DAD"

By Edgar A. Guest

Only a "Dad" with a tired face,
Coming home from the daily race,
Bringing little of gold or fame,
To show how well he has "played the game,"
But glad in his heart that his own rejoice
To see him come, and to hear his voice.

Only a "Dad" with a brood of four,
One of ten million men or more,
Plodding along in the daily strife,
Bearing the whips and scorns of life
With never a whimper of pain or hate,
For the sake of those who at home await.

Only a "Dad" neither rich nor proud,
Merely one of the surging crowd
Toiling, striving, from day to day,
Facing whatever may come his way;
Silent, whenever the harsh condemn,
And bearing it all for the love of them.

Only a "Dad" but he gave his all
To smooth the way for his children small,
Doing, with courage stern and grim,
The deeds that his father did for him.
This is the line that for him I pen,
Only a "Dad," but the best of men.

"ONLY A DAD"

By Edgar A. Guest

Only a "Dad" with a tired face,
Coming home from the daily race,
Bringing little of gold or fame,
To show how well he has "played the game,"
But glad in his heart that his own rejoice
To see him come, and to hear his voice.

Only a "Dad" with a brood of four,
One of ten million men or more,
Plodding along in the daily strife,
Bearing the whips and scorns of life
With never a whimper of pain or hate,
For the sake of those who at home await.

Only a "Dad" neither rich nor proud,
Merely one of the surging crowd
Toiling, striving, from day to day,
Facing whatever may come his way;
Silent, whenever the harsh condemn,
And bearing it all for the love of them.

Only a "Dad" but he gave his all
To smooth the way for his children small,
Doing, with courage stern and grim,
The deeds that his father did for him.
This is the line that for him I pen,
Only a "Dad," but the best of men.
